

About Cookies

Cookies are very small text files placed on your browser by the website you visit. The websites server that placed the cookie recognizes you as an account holder and your customized preferences. Generally, cookies are harmless. And session cookies allow the server to remember if the user is registered and logged-in even after visiting the sites months later (depending upon sites' session life-time). We recommend you enable cookies in your web browser for a smooth experience.

Contents

Microsoft Internet Explorer 9 (Method A or B)	1
Firefox 5.0x	2
Safari 5 for Windows	2
Google Chrome	2

Microsoft Internet Explorer 9 (Method A or B)

Click: Tools Menu or Cog Wheel (if menu bar hidden) | Internet Options | Privacy Tab:

- A. Set the slider on the 3rd notch up from the bottom
 - Blocks third-party cookies that do not have a compact privacy policy
 - Blocks third-party cookies that save information that can be used to contact you without your explicit consent
 - Restricts first party cookies that save information that can be used to contact you without your consent.
- B. Click the Advanced Tab (recommended method):
 - Set a check-mark to the option: Override automatic cookie handling
 - Set radio button to ACCEPT under First-party Cookies
 - Set radio button to BLOCK under Third-party Cookies
 - Set check-mark to: Always allow session cookies.

Click: OK | OK to save changes and close the dialogue box.

Firefox 5.0x

Click: Tools menu or Firefox Tab (if menu bar hidden) | Options | Privacy Tab:

Set under History the option: Firefox will: Use custom settings for history

Set check mark to the option: Accept cookies from sites

Unset (recommended) check-mark from the option: Accept third-party cookies

Set in Keep until: they expire

Click OK to save changes and close the dialog box.

Safari 5 for Windows

Click: Edit menu or Cog Wheel (if menu bar hidden) | Preferences | Security Tab:

Set check marks to options: Fraudulent sites

Set check marks to options under Web content: All (recommended)

Set radio button under Accept cookies to option: Only from sites I visit

Click the X at the top to save and close the dialogue box.

Google Chrome

Click: Customize & Control (wrench symbol) | Options | Under the Hood (left column) | Privacy (right column) | Content Settings button:

Set radio buttons under Cookies to: Allow local data to be set (sets both First & Third-party cookies!)

Set check-mark under Cookies to option: Ignore exceptions and block third-party cookies (recommended)

Close the Options – Content Settings browser tab (top of the browser) to save and close the dialogue box.